Vol. 3—No. 169 GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, JULY 16, 1923 THREE CENTS

Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

Parking as It Is Practiced in the Business Section

THE lack of thought for others on the part of a great many automobilists is bringing us to the conclusion that chivalry has no place in this day and age.

If the individual in parking his car at the curb would make it a point to park as close as possible to the car beside him and also be careful that he parks at the right angle a great many more parking spaces would be available.

In taking a drive on Brand boulevard in Glendale from Harvard to Wilson one of our readers reported that he counted twenty-seven spaces that were too narrow for a car on account of the cars in the adjoining spaces not being parked close enough.

* * *

TWENTY-SEVEN cars probably means at least one hundred people were inconvenienced purely on account of the lack of thought on the part of these twenty-seven drivers.

This lack of thought is not only demonstrated in Glendale but is evidenced throughout the country. A great many cities have done away with this evil by painting the parking spaces and tagging the driver who fails to observe the lines. This should be done in all cities in congested districts where autos are parked at an angle and afterwards when the lines become dim they should be renewed.

* * *

WE are of the opinion that the traveling public would appreciate this consideration from the officials of the different cities. The cost in comparison with the benefit would be only nominal.

* * *

WHILE we are writing about the traffic problem we want to take this occasion to commend the board of directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California on their attempt to eliminate the danger from grade crossings.

An investigation conducted by the club brought out the fact that during the past year and a half more than 200 people were killed at grade crossings and the ones who become permanently disabled would be many times this number.

This investigation should convince all that grade crossings must be eliminated. Especially in view of the fact that we make no restrictions on the drivers.

* * *

WORD comes from the east that a movement is starting there to make it compulsory to pass an examination as to physical and mental fitness before issuing drivers a license. This is a step in the right direction and the western states would do well to follow this example. With grade crossings and unfit drivers the only wonder is that the number of deaths is not more numerous.

SEVEN INJURED IN NEW YORK SUBWAY

Crowded Train Telescopes Empty String of Cars in the Bronx

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, July 16.—Two wooden coaches of a crowded elevated train were telescoped and crushed, injuring seven passengers today, when it crashed to the rear of an empty subway train in the Bronx.

The collision occurred opposite the Interborough Packing Yards, on the Jerome avenue division where elevated and subway trains travel the overhead structure.

Transportation company officials attributed the accident to the failure of switchmen to move the subway train which was being groomed for its first morning run, and rain which caused the brakes of the elevated to slip when the motorman, rounding a curve, was confronted by the standing train.

L. A. LEGION WINS FROM GLENDALE

Visitors Take the Game With Big, One-sided Score

HOPPER IS FEATURE

Post 8 Trims Locals in Meeting That Is Full of Thrills

Before a large crowd the Glendale outfit went down to defeat at the hands of the crack Post 8 Club of Los Angeles, in an independent game at the home grounds at Park avenue and San Fernando road. The home team with a much patched up lineup due to the absence of two infield stars, in Flanders, second baseman, and "Lefty" Harrison, first baseman, and didn't put up the brand of ball that was expected. "Slim" Harris started on the mound for the locals but was relieved in the seventh inning due to a sore arm. "Wes" Aageson then took the hill and finished the game.

Hopper, the first baseman for Post No. 8, was the batting feature of the game as he got a home run, a 3-base hit and a single in five trips to the plate.

Next Sunday's the big game again, when Glendale takes on Lankershim in the play-off of the protested game one week ago. According to Manager Walt this game should be the best ever put on in this city as both teams are fighting for the league leadership and another thing neither team is any too friendly. Glendale have their grudge coming from that defeat they got pushed at them in Lankershim in the first round when the score was 3 to 2 and then Lankershim has their's coming from this protested game which they are forced to play at their own expense. Therefore, why shouldn't the sparks fly thick and fast next Sunday? Manager Walt says if you miss this game you miss the biggest sporting event ever pulled off in this city.

Page Richard Hall Somewhere in City

Richard Hall, aged 15, is reported missing from National City, California, and the belief is expressed by William Kuykendall, 2121 Moniteau street, Los Angeles, brother-in-law of the boy, that he may be visiting with friends in Glendale. The police are trying to locate the lad here.

PRESS ADDS TEN WHEELS TO THE CITY'S CART

Movies Discovered in Act of Locating Without $10 Permit

This is a story of how the city treasury was enriched by $10.

As a great many know, the movies were in town today, with old Dobbin dressed in cast-off window curtains, drawing one of those old-time barouches with the driver doing the long distance stunt of driving from behind the top, and a "morning-after-the-night-before" occupant making things lively for the crowd of spectators congregated at the corner of Harvard and Brand boulevard.

A Glendale Daily Press reporter admits being a little late upon the scene and too late, in fact, to find out the name of the company doing the fireworks, so a call was sent in to the city hall to procure the name from the permit that presumably had been issued.

Contrary to supposition, such a permit had not been issued, and the city clerk's office had not been notified that any shooting was to take place, so one of the deputies advanced upon the "location," which had been moved to a few hundred feet up the street, and demanded payment of $10 into the city coffers.

As the argument on the side of the city was somewhat convincing, the director accompanied the officer to the city clerk's office and there procured the permit under the name of the Charles R. Seeling Productions. That is how the Glendale Press unwittingly caused the addition of ten wheels to the city cart.

EMPEROR OF CHINA HOPS WALL TO SAVE HIS LIFE

By RAY G. MARSHALL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PEKIN, July 16.—Discovering a plot against his life, the emperor of China fled over the walls of the Forbidden City during the night and took refuge today in his father's former home, a mile away.

Members of the imperial house hold reported to the republican police that the emperor was missing early this morning and after a search he was located.

The emperor declared that because of his punisament of some of the palace eunuchs held responsible for thefts during the recent fire servants of the palace planned to kill him. The plot was to murder the emperor, set fire once more to the Forbidden City and loot the imperial buildings, he said.

Acting upon the emperor's request, the republican police drove more than 100 eunuchs from the Forbidden City without permitting them to take their belongings. Other police searched the palaces, hoping to find hidden treasure and further evidence of the alleged plot.

The emporer is remaining under protection of the republican police.

U. P. TRAINMEN CAUGHT IN TRAIN RUNNING AMUCK

[By Associated Press]

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., July 16.—Two Union Pacific trainmen were killed last night in the most spectacular wreck in many years of railroading on the Caion Pass when a 30-car freight train loaded with cement and coal ran away and at a speed estimated at from 60 to 80 miles an hour left the track and piled up alongside the state highway, 50 feet from the track.

Cleveland Palmer, of San Bernardino, fireman, was hurled 400 feet out through the cab window and was instantly killed when he struck the cement highway. W. B. Hamlin of San Bernardino, head brakeman, was fatally crushed and died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital here. C. F. Holland, the engineer was seriously injured.

WHEAT "SELLERS' STRIKE" IS BEING FORMED

WICHITA, Kan., July 16.—Concerted action by farmers to bolster up the price of wheat was sought here today at a conference of representatives of five hard-wheat producing states.

The suggestion of Governor Johnathan Davis of Kansas, that the farmers organize a "sellers' strike" was considered by the delegates.

Farm clubs, granges, co-operative associations and other farm organizations of Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Colorado were represented at the meeting. The conference met on call of John A. Whitehurst, secretary of the Oklahoma board of agriculture.

MASONS EAT BEEFSTEAK AT PICNIC

SCIOTS' BAND THERE

Realtors and Legion Men Battle for Baseball Honors

About 225 Masons of Glendale lodges rallied for the big stag beef steak "feed" served Sunday in the former city park in Verdugo Woodlands, through the courtesy of Haddock & Nibley. The ball games and other contests enabled members to develop appetites worthy of the occasion and all did justice to the delicious meal served by the committee headed by A. H. Lapham, who was assisted by Fred Deal, Jesse Stein, Wallace Hodge. Worshipful Master Harmon A. Strong, W. H. Reynolds, S. S. Gilhuly and others.

In one of the games the realty dealers were matched against members of the American Legion and won out. It was a very close contest in which the teams were tied for some time, the realtors finally achieving a slight lead at the close. Another game in which the score could not be learned was between members of the two blue lodges.

Harry E. Betz and Frank Chambers distinguished themselves in a horseshoe contest. The surprise of the day was the arrival at about 4:30 of a band composed of members of Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, led by C. O. Russell. They entertained with numbers while the dinner was being served and "France" J. W. Henry led in community singing accompanied by the band. It was simply a jolly good time with no speeches or formal program, every man becoming a boy again for the afternoon. Before it broke up a panoramic picture was taken of the crowd.

PRESBYTERIAN ELDERS HOLD RETREAT

Spend Saturday in Quarterly Service at Santa Monica

The board of elders, together with the pastors, of Glendale Presbyterian church spent all day last Saturday in the quarterly retreat. They met in the parlors of the new First Presbyterian church of Santa Monica. Besides the two pastors, eighteen elders were present and the entire day was spent in prayer and conference with reference to the work and plans of the church.

The morning session was opened with a gripping spiritual message by Dr. William B. Allison of Occidental College, in which he sounded the keynote of the entire day. Dr. Harry L. Boyd, an elder in the First Presbyterian church of Hollywood, spoke at the opening hour of the afternon session. He brought a great message from the book and also told of conditions on the mission field in China where he has spent many years as a successful missionary physician.

These retreats have been so helpful that they have become an established part of the work of the local church. A number of elders' wives and families made the journey to Santa Monica and spent the day on the beach while the conference was in session.

LAST COMMUNION IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IS HELD

Sunday evening at 4 o'clock the annual communion vesper service was held in the Glendale Presbyterian church and was largely attended. It is the last that will be held in the old church and the occasion was invested with considerable sentiment.

WINDSOR ROAD OPENING WORK STARTS SOON

Through 5 Acres Owned by J. C. Sherer With Two Frontages

Proceedings will probably be started in the near future for the opening of Windsor road to Verdugo road, through five acres owned by J. C. Sherer, which has been platted into lots and the map recorded. The property will also have frontages on Garfield avenue and Sycamore Canyon road, for the opening and improvement of which proceedings have been started, and on Verdugo road. Mr. Sherer is retaining two acres where his home stands. This means the passing of "Somerset Farm," by which Mr. Sherer's holdings were long known.

Mr. Sherer is one of the old settlers who esteems it a privilege to furnish the meeting place for the annual picnic of old settlers. This year it is to be held on the second Saturday in September and a very large attendance is expected.

LEGION PLANS TO PRESS CLAIMS ON CONGRESS

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A legislative program calling for adjusted compensation for World War veterans and affecting their rehabilitation, hospital care and insurance will be pressed upon congress when it convenes in December by the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

The program, based on recommendations adopted by the third annual convention of the organization at Minneapolis, Minn., was announced here today. His bail was fixed at $50.

POLICE TO PROTECT ALL NEW PAVING

Heavy Traffic on Fresh Pavement to Be Stopped by City

ORDINANCE IGNORED

Fresh Pavement Is Being Ruined by Truck Drivers

A campaign against truck drivers who run over newly-made streets of Glendale regardless of the notices posted on those streets prohibiting heavy traffic was started this morning by Chief of Police Fraser. It is generally known that the "no heavy traffic" signs posted on all Glendale streets for a certain length of time after the construction are universally disregarded. Sometimes within a week or two after the completion of a street the heavy traffic starts, this inevitably resulting in the street being badly cut up. Some of the Glendale contractors who use trucks and wagons in their work are just as guilty of this violation as drivers who come in here from the outside. It requires several months after the street has been installed for it to "cure" sufficiently to be in shape to withstand heavy traffic.

"This is one of the hardest ordinances in Glendale to enforce," said Chief of Police Fraser this morning. "There are so many outsiders coming into the city who are not acquainted with this ordinance that it is a question what procedure should be followed in every case.

"We have only two motorcycle officers on duty at a time and it is impossible for them to catch speeders, who are threatening the lives of local residents, and bring in all of those who are violating the "no traffic" signs. But from now on we are going after these violators harder than ever. It is a shame the way some of the new streets are cut up and we are going to do everything in our power to stop this practice."

ARMY PREPARES AIR DEFENSE ARTILLERY

Developing Searchlight Good for Twenty Miles

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Although recent game board experience at the army war college served to stress sharply that airplanes will in the future be the chief defense against hostile craft, a recent war department memorandum announces that a new method of indirect aiming is being worked out and the following innovations in anti-aircraft equipment are being developed.

A 50-calibre machine gun with a horizontal range of 27,000 feet and a straight up range of 9,000 to 12,000 feet and a rate of fire of 500 shots a minute.

A 37 millimeter machine gun firing at the rate of 120 shots a minute shells that will explode on contact with balloon fabric.

A mobile three-inch weapon firing fifteen shots a minute, 21,000 feet in the air.

A 4.7 inch gun firing a 45-pound shell 45,000 feet in the air within ten degrees of straight above the gunner's head.

A new anti aircraft searchlight sixty inches in diameter with a light strong enough to make possible a person twenty miles away reading a newspaper by it, and casting a beam 1800 feet wide at a range of six thousand yards.

WEEK-END MARKED BY OPERATIONS OF BURGLARS

Sneaks Enter Homes, But Get Little Return From Efforts

The home of S. F. Gibbons, 245 West Stocker street, was entered and robbed at about 12:05 o'clock this morning, and within a few moments after the theft the matter was reported to the Glendale police. A number of things of value, a list of which will be given to the police today, were taken. Officers Nunn, Armer and Hedrick were detailed at once to the job. Entrance to the home was gained by forcing the rear window.

The screen door at 247 North Brand boulevard was cut away and the room was entered by means of a passkey, at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Twenty-five pennies were taken. No trace of the thieves has been found.

A bicycle was stolen from the Buffalo Dye Works, 106 West California, at shortly after 2 o'clock Sunday morning, according to the records of the Glendale police department. It has not been located.

A sedan and twelve tires were stolen from the Kelley Motor company, 230 North Brand boulevard, at 9 o'clock Sunday night. At 9:30 o'clock the car, completely stripped, was found by the detective bureau of Los Angeles in Huntington Park, and Mr. Kelley was immediately notified.

REINFUSION OF BLOOD SAVES LIFE

Yale Medical School Developes New Operation It Is Announced

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, July 16.—Two unusual operations for transfusion of blood, successfully carried out at the New Haven general hospital, now a part of the medical school of Yale University, were made known by institution officers today. In each instance the person's blood was drawn off and injected back into the system through the veins.

The first case was that of a woman who had a severe hemorrhage in the abdomen. The surgeons drew off the blood from the abdomen, tied the vessels, and after filtering the blood, transfused it into her system.

Soon after a man was admitted with hemorrhage of the liver following an automobile accident. The abdomen was filled with blood. The staff treated the liver, filtered the blood drawn off and injected it through the arm.

Both patients are regarded as convalescents.

A week ago after a negro had been stabbed under the heart the surgeons opened the heart cavity, washed the organ and mended a cut, draw the blood from the cavity and sewed up the wound. He is almost ready for discharge.

TORTURE OF MOROS REPORTED TO U. S.

[By Associated Press]

MANILA, July 16.—Sensational charges of cold-blooded murder and torture of Moros on the Island of Basilin by members of the constabulary stationed there were laid today before Gov. General Leonard Wood by Captain Dolpan of the inter-island steamer Midget. The governor has begun sweeping investigation.

Capt. Dolpan described the alleged murder of an aged, unarmed Moro who had acted as mail carrier at Basilin. He said the old man had just delivered the mail to the constabulary barrack when a sergeant shot him down as he turned to leave. Dolpan declared a lieutenant of the constabulary was a witness of the affair, but made no protest.

The inter-island skipper asserted that the constabulary troopers torture the Moros by stringing them up by their thumbs and by driving pegs between their toes after their feet have been tightly bound.

POLICE RECORD IS MIXED ON DOG BITE

"I do not own the dog that bit Mrs. Snyder," said Mrs. J. D. Root this morning, in seeking to correct the report from the police station which was the occasion for a story in the Press Saturday.

The story read: "Mrs. Snyder of 437 West Lomita was bitten yesterday by a dog said to belong to Mrs. J. D. Root, 366 West Elk."

Now the truth of the matter is, according to Mrs. Root, that the dog belongs to P. H. Calahan of 366 West Elk, and that Mrs. Snyder, when bitten by the dog, asked to use Mrs. Root's phone to notify the police. Mrs. Root resides at 425 West Lomita, and Mrs. Snyder at 437 West Lomita.

AUTO TRAPS MAY NOT BE ELIMINATED

Up to the City Council to Press State's New Legislation

JUDGE LOWE'S VIEW

Sentiment of Officials Is Against the New Measure

Whether or not the section of the state motor vehicle law which will eliminate speed traps and will, therefore, take from the motor officers their stop watches, that is scheduled to go into effect September 1, will be enforced in Glendale remains with the city council.

Members of the Glendale council have stated, unofficially, that speed traps will not be eliminated and that the handling of traffic violators will continue as at present.

Judge Lowe, Glendale city recorder, stated this morning that in his opinion the section in question is unconstitutional and that it challenged will not be upheld by the courts. He claims that the eliminating of the traps would undoubtedly result in an avalanche of accidents.

"There is a nigger in that section somewhere," said Judge Lowe, "but it has not yet been smoked out. I have not yet seen an official copy of the proposed bill, but I have been reliably informed that the section relating to stop watches and traps was inserted just two or three days before the close of the legislature, and too late for any negative action to be taken on it."

The motor vehicle bill is now on the press, according to Mr. Towman, manager of the Glendale branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California, who stated that it is expected to be out by August 1. The auto club has come out squarely in favor of doing away with the speed traps.

City Manager Reeves of Glendale stated this morning that he is willing to order anything that is desired by the council in this matter.

Pasadena, Santa Ana and other Southern California cities, according to Judge Lowe, are intending to disregard the section in the new law relating to traps and, states Judge Lowe, the district attorney of Orange county has stated that the section is unconstitutional and that the motor officers of that county will be instructed to continue as at present.

An excerpt from a letter which Mr. Lowe states was written by C. W. Koiner, city manager of Pasadena, follows:

"Our department holds the best thing to do would be to arrest and test the matter out."

Unless the city council acts officially in this matter the section in question of the proposed motor vehicle law will go into effect in Glendale on September 1. To interrupt its action the council must instruct the city manager to disregard the section and the city manager in turn must instruct the chief of police to disregard the section in question.

An effort has been made by Judge Lowe to have the operation of this law made inactive by a referendum petition. He has sent letters to the city managers of various cities of Southern California in connection with this idea, but the responses received are to the effect that there is doubt if this could be put over.

"Regarding the law prohibiting speed traps," writes City Manager Koiner of Pasadena, "it is doubtful whether you could bring to bear the referendum on this."

"I am confident," said Judge Lowe, "that the required 48,000 signatures to a referendum on this question could be secured in Glendale and Los Angeles.

"I want it distinctly understood that my stand in this matter is being taken entirely for the public good. To eliminate an effective method of catching speeders is bound to result in more speeding, and more speeding cannot help but bring about a greater number of and more serious accidents.

"By the way the number of accidents are multiplying the effort should be to make it harder for the lawbreaker to get away, rather than to make it easier."

Irish Republicans Active in Sydney

[By Associated Press]

SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 16.—Two Irish Republicans, Father Michael O'Flannagan and John J. O'Kelly, arrested here in April on charges of engaging in seditious activities, were removed from jail today and deported on the steamer Mongolia which is bound for London via India. Ten days ago they were offered their release on provision that they agree not to address public meetings. They refused and later declined another offer to leave the country voluntarily.

U. S. TRACK AND FIELD STARS IN ENGLAND

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 16 (United Press). — Twenty-three American athletes next Saturday will swarm into the Queens Club, London, and show the best track and field stars of Oxford and Cambridge how good the United States is.

The American team, composed of 13 Yale and 10 Harvard track stars, is the best that the United States ever sent over for the combination clash. The only possible weak spots in the team are the two-mile run and the running high jump, but the Oxford-Cambridge team is not any better off in these two events, and that makes matters even.

Two former American athletes are starring with the Oxford-Cambridge gang.

Billy Stevenson, former Princeton quarter-miler and national champion at that distance in 1921, will compete in both the furlong and the quarter.

Tevis Huhn, entrant in the hurdles, is an old Princeton man, too, and the British are enthusiastic over his form.

Abramson, the English sprinter, is one of the best developed there in recent years, the London sport writers say. In the recent Oxford-Cambridge dual meet he defeated Stevenson in the 440-yard run, after winning the 100-yard and the broad jump.

Milligan, another Englishman, is always good for 1:56 in the half-mile and close to 4:20 in the mile.

The Americans are led by Chapman and Gage, quarter milers; Hulman and Durant, hurdlers; Comins, Rusnack, Eastman, Scholpp and Douglas. The latter five are expected to do most of the scoring.

The scene of the Olympic games of 1924 will be finished soon at Colombes, France. The seating capacity of the stands will be 70,000, the French Olympic committee announces.

Special arrangements are being made in the construction work to care for the comfort of the scores of athletes gathered from all over the world.

To heat pies without burning the crust put the pie into a deep baking-dish, filled with hot water, and stand on the oven top till about 20 minutes before wanted; then put in the oven to heat the crust. The pie will be as nice as if just cooked.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM TOBACCO

LEGION NEWS

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of Justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.—Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Irwin T. Quinn, general chairman of the American Legion state convention committee to be held here August 27-30, announces that the convention city has raised the entire amount of money necessary to finance the convention. All the business sessions of the convention will be held in the auditorium of the new Masonic Temple. Headquarters of the Legion will be in the Eureka Inn. All delegates are advised to register at the above named place. Department headquarters will be moved to the Eureka Inn on August 25th. All communications concerning the convention will be addressed here after that time. The general correspondence will be addressed to City Hall, San Francisco, as usual.

This will be the biggest family gathering the Legion has ever handled in this city. Legionnaires should plan to make this a summer outing. "Come and bring your family and visit the Red Woods." is the slogan being used by the committee. An important feature is the opening of the deer season on the first of September, immediately following the close of the great conclave.

The most important matters to be taken up at the convention will be the election of the delegates to the national convention to be held in San Francisco, October 15 to 19. There will be keen competition among the Legionnaires for the selection of these delegates. Approximately 15,000 will be in attendance and only 40 of them will be elected official delegates with the same number as alternates.

Reduced rates have been granted on all railroads from all points of California to Eureka and are approximately the price of one fare and one tenth for the round trip. A tentative program will be sent each delegate and alternate from national headquarters as soon as we are notified of their election.

Yachts Put to Test in Long Sail to Mackinac

[By Associated Press]

CHICAGO, July 16.—Yacht racing honors on the Great Lakes will be at stake when the starting gun booms here July 21 for the Chicago-Mackinac island race, the longest fresh-water race in the world.

Competition this year for the Mackinac cup, the most coveted Great Lakes racing trophy, will be even more spirited than during the 19 years' history of the race, and will take on an international aspect with at least one and probably several Canadian entries.

From the break in the harbor at Chicago to the end of the 331 mile run at Mackinac island, a course stretching almost the entire length of Lake Michigan, yachtsmen concede that the winning of this race calls for the maximum in seamanship and puts to the test a yacht's best sailing qualities.

KILBANE READY TO TAKE UP A NEW BUSINESS

[By Associated Press]

CLEVELAND, July 16.—After nearly a month's rest on his farm near Vermillion, Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight boxing champion until he met Eugene Criqui in New York, is ready to settle down to the life of a business man. His friends have estimated his financial assets at a quarter of a million dollars.

Johnny will become a business man without any regrets at having lost the title, although, as he says now, he felt regret when he staggered to his feet immediately following his knockout.

"No more fighting for me," Johnny has said. "I can't fight any more, anyway. The old pep was gone in the Criqui fight, my hands were bad, I had nothing. And to meet a little fighter of Criqui's type you needed everything.

"I have appreciated the way my friends rallied about me after I had been beaten. When I returned to Cleveland 11 years ago after beating Abe Attell for the championship, 100,000 people met me at the depot. A few hundred of my friends met me when I returned from the Criqui fight. They were downcast, but I want them to know that I am not at all blue; that I'm glad I'm no longer champion."

Johnny says his only interest in boxing in the future will be centered in Al Ziemer, his sparring partner for years, whom he wants to send after Criqui.

PETER'S RELEASE INTERPRETED AT THE BIBLE CLASS

An inspiring interpretation of the story of Peter's miraculous release from prison as recorded in Acts 12, was given by Keith L. Brooks before the large Brotherhood Bible class of the Presbyterian church, meeting in the council chamber of the city hall on Sunday morning. The attendance of the class is keeping up well through the summer months and the new president, W. A. Horn, is injecting considerable enthusiasm into the work of the organization. Mr. Brooks said in part:

"Herod vexed the church and killed James the apostle. Those who are closest to Christ are almost sure of persecution. For 300 years Christianity was a persecuted religion in the Roman empire, and to confess Christ was at the hazard of life. Yet Christianity lived and thrived. James was the first martyr among the apostles, the first restored to the actual presence of Christ. No other apostle has his death recorded in the Bible, and James' obituary is given in ten words. He got scanty obituary on earth but had a great entrance into heaven.

Next Herod threw Peter into the dungeon. Then we read the statement: "But prayer was made without ceasing." Prayer does change things. The Christian can appeal his case to the King of kings and get a legal discharge from heaven. There is a difference between presenting a petition and pressing suit. These Christians prayed through. The promise of God is not to the act, but the habit of prayer.

The night before the intended murder of Peter, the record tells us he slept between two soldiers, bound in chains. He was the only Christian in the city who could sleep. Herod himself didn't rest as well. Peter knew all was well with his soul, and whether by life or by death, he would glorify God. What a compliment Herod paid Peter by putting him under such heavy guard. The devil is always paying compliments like that to Christianity while he is trying to destroy it. One of the best proofs of the gospel is the number of volumes written every year in the effort to destroy the faith. Why so much time and talent in the effort to destroy Christianity if there is nothing to it?

Just a few hours before the time for Peter's execution an angel appeared to Peter, causing his chains to fall off and the doors of the prison to open to him. God often delays the answer of prayer until the eve of our extremity. Peter was a better man for having been brought close to the hour and then delivered. Those Christians prayed for seven days and nights, and was not the timely answer a greater consolation to them, and a greater confusion to the enemies of the gospel? If God delays the answer to prayer, we can usually figure that He is working out some great blessing for His people.

The angel led Peter through the great iron gate and then left him to himself. Note the economy of miraculous power. God doesn't do for us what we can just as well do for ourselves. He never reveals Himself in continuous miracles. This was a real test of Peter. In glad amaze he had gone forward into freedom under the spell of the angel's presence. The test of us is not what we are in moments of high spiritual elation, but in the succeeding hours of darkness when the angel has left us at the gate.

Peter went straight to the prayer meeting to notify them of his deliverance. The little girl who answered his knock at the door was so filled with joyous emotion that she failed to let him in. Peter had more trouble getting into that prayer meeting than he did getting out of jail. Those believers were not expecting Peter to prayer meeting that night and could hardly believe that he actually stood at the door. There is no thought here of unbelief. Perhaps they looked for a deliverance less spectacular, but expect his release in some form, they certainly did.

The climax of the whole story is in the account of Herod's death. We read that he was eaten of worms and died. Ill fated worms that had to each such stuff. In the beginning of the chapter, Herod was the big thing, but look at his end. The atheist and infidel may be in the popular swim today, but read on to the end and get his dying words. Herod sets his soldiers on one Christian, then tiny worms lugged him off to the cemetery. "But the word of God grew and multiplied." With these striking words the chapter closes. Learn from this that God directs all events in the best interests of His people and the spread of the gospel.

Delinquent Groups In Colleges Found To Favor Easy Life

[By Associated Press]

EVANSTON, Ind., July 16.—Too little sleep, too much play, not enough study, too much leisure; fast eating and diversified thinking are factors that devitalize students and are responsible for the "delinquent groups" found in every university, according to a report made public by Professor Delton Thomas Howard of Northwestern University.

In Northwestern alone, out of 1,635 students in the college of liberal arts, Professor Howard has found a "delinquent group" of 265 composed of 166 men and 99 women. In other words, he points out, 16 out of every 100 students do not "pass." But delinquency does not necessarily imply lack of intelligence, the professor found.

"No result of our study," the Northwestern professor writes, "is more significant and interesting than the discovery that the average intelligence of the so-called delinquent group is quite as high as that of the general student body."

They're all there; the living skeleton who eats enough for three ordinary people; the fat lady to whom impertinent bystanders suggest dieting; the "wild woman, stolen from a cannibal mother in Africa," and the tatooed man.

The first reel from Thomas H. Ince's "Soul of the Beast," the Metro picture playing at Glendale Theater, is better than a day at the circus for the sights are all there without attendant discomforts of heat and dust. The surging crowds; the loud-mouthed peanut, popcorn and lemonade vendors; the "hick" with staring eyes, taking in all the side shows, are real as life for a real circus was used to make this part of the film. Audience today insist upon realism, so when Mr. Inch films a story with a few scenes from a circus, he sends his players to travel with the show for two weeks to get the shots needed.

The picture gives a satisfying suggestion of the glamor of the sawdust ring and then shifts the scene to the tawdry life behind, where a close-fisted, grasping old villain begrudges even the food they eat to the people who work for him. Little wonder that when the top of the tent blows off in a terrific storm that "Oscar," the big elephant, who is the troupe's star performer, pulls away from captivity, taking his small mistress with him.

Clerks to Sort Mail In Speeding Airplane

LONDON, July 16.—A "flying mail train" is the latest type of airplane to be developed in England.

In the plane's mail-chamber, says the Daily Chronicle's aeronautical expert, sorters will be able to carry on their work just as they might in a railway mail train. It will have a radius of 2,000 miles and will be able to stay in the air 24 hours without alighting. The crew in charge will be provided with regular sleeping quarters on board. They will, in fact, work in shifts while in the air, some of them sleeping while others are on duty in the control-chamber.

If necessary, when flying at night or immersed in fog or cloud, the crew will be able to bring into play mechanisms which will endow the craft with the power of automatic self-balance. The machine will virtually fly itself, and all the helmsman will have to do will be to keep it on a compass course by means of the rudder.

FURNITURE WILL REMAIN AT THE PRESENT PRICE

CHICAGO, July 16 (U. P.)—Furniture of the Tudor, Queen Ann and Louis XVI periods will continue to hold popular favor for American bedrooms, while that of the Italian and Grecian periods will be used for living-rooms, according to the Chicago Furniture Manufacturers' association, holding its summer show here.

The new year will bring out no changes in American furniture; no outstanding features are evident, as at most exhibitions in the past. Creation of "freak" furniture is also on the decline. The only contribution along this line is a "King Tut" table, made of mahogany and with Egyptian vases.

No decrease from the present price of furniture is in sight. The cost of plate glass and other materials caused an increase ranging in some lines as high as 25 per cent last spring, and there is little likelihood of a return to the old level within the next year, officials of the show said.

Chicago is now the leading furniture market in the world, value of the annual output totalling $50,000,000.

Milk of human kindness has nothing in common with the cream of society.

PORTO RICO MAY ISSUE NEW BONDS

[By Associated Press]

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 16.—With prospects of a larger income from revenues than ever before for the next fiscal year, Governor Towner in his first message to the legislature, delivered recently, called attention to many necessary public undertakings, advocated the strictest economy, and explained that even with bond issues for the larger undertakings, "we shall still be compelled to omit appropriations which all approve."

The estimated income for the coming year, the governor declared, would be between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 and he said he did not deem it wise to make drastic changes in the present revenue laws for providing increased revenue. Before such increases are proposed, he suggested the appointment of a tax commission and the employment of tax experts so that the revenue laws of the island might be co-ordinated and revised in conformity with recent tax legislation in the various states.

With an assessed property valuation of more than $300,000,000, the governor pointed out that the bonded indebtedness of the island is limited to $30,000,000 and that the present indebtedness is only $11,000,000.

WORLD'S BAPTISTS AT STOCKHOLM IN CONFERENCE

By DON Q. RIDDLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 16 (United Press).—For the first time in eleven years, the Baptists of the world are to hold a world congress and this city has been selected as the place of meeting.

The congress is scheduled to convene here July 21-27. The last world meeting was held in Philadelphia in 1912. Plans were laid there for another world gathering in 1916, but this was canceled because of the war, and postwar developments have made it unwise to hold another congress until this year.

Approximately 750 Americans are planning to be in Stockholm for the convention, many of whom sailed from New York June 30 on the United States liner "America," known as the "official ship." The "America" carried the largest party of any going from the United States but several other groups of 50 to 100 have been reported.

One of these was the Kungsholm sailing of June 20, when more than 100 delegates, most Swedish-Americans, embarked for Gothenburg. Another party of 60, most of whom were from Texas, sailed on the Berengaria June 26.

Thousands of delegates are expected from the United States, Canada, South America, Central Africa, New Zealand, Australia, Japan, the Philippine Islands, China, Burma, India, as well as from Great Britain, Sweden, Norway and the countries of Continental Europe, including the new states of Latvia, Esthonia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Several topics of special interest to Baptists as well as significance to the world at large are scheduled for consideration. International peace, in which the League of Nations will doubtless be included, the need of help in Europe and relief work, and especially religious liberty and the separation of church and state, will receive attention.

A special commission of which Dr. E. Y. Mullins of Louisville, Ky., is chairman, will present a report formulating a pronouncement of Baptist fundamental principles and a restatement of the Baptist position. The late Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, for forty years pastor of Calvary Baptist church in New York, who died February 23, 1923, was president of the Baptist World Alliance and was to have presided at the Stockholm meeting. A new presiding officer has not yet been appointed.

By special invitation of the Archbishop of Upsala, the congress will assemble for divine worship in the famous cathedral on Sunday evening, July 22, where the sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. H. Shakespeare, D. D., of London.

HALT CALLED ON THE SUMMER FUR

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Fashion's decree that women shall wear furs the year round has aroused great apprehension among naturalists, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society, whose officials believe that some of the animals that are abundant today may soon be in the class of the auk and the dodo.

"It is only by educating the American public to the need for periods of protection for these animals," the bulletin says, "that we will be able to preserve one of the country's most valuable assets for the enjoyment and profit of future generations."

Recently the society sent an expedition to an island off the coast of Lower California to try to find specimens of the great seal colonies which used to inhabit the island, but not a single animal was seen.

It has been estimated that America spends yearly $100,000,000 for fur garments, and the society declares that the beaver, marten, skunk, muskrat and other animals are not only paying with their lives, but with the threatened extinction of their kind.

A middle-aged woman once told us that her husband had never spoken a cross word to her. Later we discovered that she had never had a husband.

CHILDREN OF JAZZ TUESDAY AT THE T. D. & L. THEATER

Eileen Percy in the Paramount Picture "Children of Jazz"

"Other Times," which will be on view at the T., D. & L. Theater for two days, beginning Tuesday. Theodore Kosloff, Ricardo Cortez, Robert Cain and Eileen Percy, all well known screen players, are featured.

Richard Forestall, an adventurer, is the son of a queer man living on an island with a score or more of dependents, all of whom seemingly belong to the era of the fifties. Their dress, manners and social customs are so radically different from those of today as to render them racially distinct. It is these folks in the story that make "Children of Jazz" as different from the ordinary photoplay as day is from night.

China Turning to Intensive Farming

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A remarkable development of intensive agriculture in China is shown by a special study of farming in that country, just completed by the department of agriculture.

China has more than 59,000,000 farmers who, with their families, comprise 80 to 90 per cent of the nation's total population. Of a total area of more than 2,000,000,000 acres of land, about 212,000,000 acres are under cultivation, including 43,000,000 acres of wet lands used chiefly for rice production, and 16,000,000 acres of gardens and fruit orchards.

AGAINST STEAM BOILERS

NEW YORK, July 16.—Steam power is taking the place of strong right arms and "elbow grease" in west and middle west farms, according to the Boiler Code committee of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The use of steam for scalding milk pails, cream separators, churning machinery and other dairying apparatus is fast becoming general. Steam power is being used to pump water and saw wood.

With the announcement of the increased use of steam on farms, the committee has sounded a warning that the application of safety laws to guard against explosion of high pressure boilers is needed. The high pressure boiler is as potentially dangerous as TNT, the committee declares.

BECAUSE—
We Handle Selected Seconds

WHAT IS A SECOND?
A SECOND in plumbing fixtures is a fixture that is not 100 per cent perfect. It may be caused by a slight roll in the casting, which you would not notice—it may be a half inch off in one of its standard dimensions—it may be a slight corrosion of the enamel in one small space—it may be an enamel blister on the shoulder or outside of a tub. None of these so-called "damages" affect the serviceability or comfort of the fixture. In most cases they do not affect the appearance. In nine cases out of ten, the thing that makes the SECOND is merely a variation from some standard specification. LET US SHOW YOU THE SO-CALLED FLAWS. WE DO NOT HANDLE A SINGLE FIXTURE THAT WILL NOT LIVE AS LONG AS A FIRST. SEE FOR YOURSELF.

There ARE substitutes for the VERY GOOD that for all practical purposes are JUST AS GOOD. Well selected SECONDS of plumbing fixtures can seldom be distinguished, except by experts, from FIRSTS. We are frank to say that we sell SECONDS AS SECONDS, as well as FIRSTS AS FIRSTS. We say they will give you appearance and service and durability. Read our definition of a SECOND.

SEE FOR YOURSELF
Our display of SECONDS in plumbing fixtures is open for your inspection. You can pick your own tubs, toilets or sinks in our shop. You know exactly what you are getting. We will tell you the reason why that particular fixture IS a SECOND, and where you save money.

WE INSTALL
We have already built up an enviable reputation for the FIRSTS we have installed in many homes in Glendale.

We will also install your SECONDS, if you wish, with the same care and attention we show on all jobs.

We want your complete satisfaction—for Glendale is a growing city, you are growing with it—you will want more fixtures and so will your friends. As permanent property holders, here to stay, we GIVE SATISFACTION AND CALL A SPADE A SPADE.

OUR SAVINGS YOURS ALSO
We are not ashamed to sell SECONDS, because we know them to be good. We select from the manufacturer's stock the SECONDS we KNOW are RIGHT. In that way we save money, and we pass the SAVINGS TO YOU. WE SELL FOR CASH, and keep our goods moving.

In justice to yourself and the principle of economy in a year when building costs and plumbing costs are high, you should investigate the legitimate savings you can make—and we are here to serve you frankly and honestly. See for yourself.

Truths in Epigram

Oh, East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet, Till Earth and Sky stand presently at God's great Judgment Seat. —Kipling.

THE SPIRIT OF DISCONTENT

When a man is dissatisfied with his condition, and begins to make quest for remedy, there is a habit on the part of the fatly content to term him a radical. Thus when the farmer, finding his arduous toil unrequited, presumes to ask what the matter is, and to devise some method whereby his toil may be rewarded with something other than penury, he is termed a radical. There is a tendency to put him in a class with the red, with the chap whose expression of opinion is to be discerned in smoking fields and the ashes of industrial plants held by him to represent capital, and therefore properly to be hated and destroyed.

There is a type of radical who deserves no sympathy. He is not a laborer ill paid and overworked, but a dangerous agitator. Generally as he mouths his loathing for the constitution, for the visible evidence of prosperity, for all law and all order, he employs an alien tongue. He does not even know the language of the land in which he is an invader, a trespasser, and to which he is a constant menace. He has nothing in common with the farmer, who feeds the world, and to whom the world, ungrateful and careless, denies in return the decent comforts of life.

On the farms and homesteads of the northwest are thousands of farmers who cannot make a living. They work as though slaves under the lash, always, until lately, buoyed up by the hope of a better day. Their wives work equally hard, and equally without reward. Many of these farmers have abandoned their holdings. Many more will do so. They are obliged to surrender all they have to in some measure meet their obligations. They know now that their years of bitter effort have been wasted. This year, for the first time in several seasons, they have crops. It is too late. Even at fair prices the crops could not save them, and fair prices are not offered. The farmers of Montana have had to see their stock starve to death. They exhausted their money and credit in bringing in feed. Much of the hay shipped to them was devoid of nutriment, the hungry stock succumbing to starvation in the very act of trying to consume the stuff. The hides of the cattle were not worth stripping off, there being no market. At the same time every leather product was high. The farmer buying a harness or a pair of boots had to pay a fancy price. It is not to be wondered at that the resentment engendered by this prolonged imposition is becoming a political force. It is not to be met adequately by calling the suffering farmer a radical. He is not a radical. He is a normal human being and a devoted citizen. He rebels against conditions that are crushing him, and he has a right to rebel.

TWO GREAT CITIES

In Los Angeles and San Francisco, the state of California has two great cities. The commonwealth is large enough and rich enough to be entitled to both. It gives them all the resources they need to draw upon. There is no real reason for the slightest feeling of unfriendliness between them. Each has points in which it excels. Each is a complement of the other. That which one may lack the other has in abundance. They may be regarded as fair sisters, but presenting different types of beauty.

A few years ago the people of San Francisco affirmed, out of a genuine belief, that Los Angeles never would amount to anything. Some of them clung to this idea until the census of 1920 opened their eyes. Then they realized that conditions had changed. The former pueblo had become the larger city. Its growth since then has been even more rapid. Once a tourist resort and citrus center, but little else, it has become notable for manufacturing, the home of many important industries, the site of a great harbor. Large enterprises flourish, capital is ready for investment. It is significant that part of this capital is supplied by San Franciscans, who thus directly share the benefits of southern expansion. But all the time San Francisco, too, has been growing. The fame it acquired while still it was indisputably the social, commercial and financial leader of the Pacific coast, it still retains. It was a real city, a place of metropolitan atmosphere and habit before half its present size, and before there was any Los Angeles worth mentioning.

Los Angeles has in many respects forged ahead. This has not been due to any fault on the part of San Francisco, but has been the result of circumstances. There were certain economic and climatic conditions in this end of the state that made wide appeal. The result has been an unprecedented growth. It was not reasonable to suppose that San Francisco could forever remain the one California city of importance and dignified size. The wiser people of both cities understand this. They are not unfriendly. On the other hand they have formed a sort of partnership, and are working together for the advance of the state.

WAR A CRIME

War, in a military sense, often is denounced as a crime. Industrial war if not similarly classed, would have to be rated as stupidity; which often is as bad as crime.

A professor of Harvard recently said in the course of a lecture:

"Present industrial warfare is thoroughly bad, wasteful, inefficient and socially disastrous.

"Combinations of capital with the blacklist and boycott are at war with combinations of labor using the strike and sabotage."

Yet if the representatives of the two sides desired to be fair with each other; if neither demanded more than a legitimate share; if both conceded that the opposition had rights, and that conservation of these rights could do no harm, there would be no industrial warfare. One form of crime would vanish.

There are many men, some of them in public life, who earnestly desire some adjustment in consonance with the spirit of the Golden Rule. They are hampered by the reluctance of others to yield to the demands for simple justice. On each side there are those who do not want any adjustment. There are capitalists desirous of ruling. There are, across the line, agitators whose inspiration is hate, and not a reaching after justice at all. To offset these is only the common sense and the decent instinct of the people in general.

A great outcry arises against a lopsided prosperity that yields little or nothing to the average individual, and yet leaves him acutely aware that elsewhere profits are being piled up against all reason or necessity. Analysis of the outcry reveals the fact that much of it comes from irresponsible and often not even respectable sources. Yet beneath the froth of agitation there is the current of a strong belief that while industrial war is wicked or the result of stupidity, the causes that produce it will have to be removed so far as this is humanly possible.

Not even the man who paid a fine of $50 for leaving his campfire burning, could complain that the penalty was too severe. On the contrary, he should regard himself as properly but mildly given needed discipline.

There are intimations of a possibility that Dempsey will demand half a million for his next fight. However, the height of folly may have been reached when Montana capitalists impoverished themselves to fill a purse considerably smaller.

Names Lose Their Meaning

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Fancy the mental confusion that must exist in an organization that calls itself a "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals" and then has the sublime effrontery to consent to and help promote a bull fight in the name of charity.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

New Orleans is the city which confronts civilization as the locate of this travesty.

A bull fight for charity. We might expect such a situation in Mindanao or Afghanistan, but this is Christian America in the year of grace 1923.

The bull fights began June 30 and continued for eight engagements. The sole condition made by the city authorities and the S. P. C. A.—heaven save the mark—in consenting to this barbarity was that the animals should be killed, presumably after they had been prodded, tormented and goaded to exhaustion; presumably after the crowds had glutted themselves on the sight of blood and hardened their souls to misery.

The New Orleans papers announce that the bulls would come from Mexico; the toreadors from Spain. The coliseum used for boxing matches was converted into an arena.

If the United States permits such exhibitions we need expect nothing but a saturnalia of cruelty and violence to result. Suppose the bulls were killed? What of the horses disemboweled in the arena? What of the boys who smothered all humane instincts in the excitement and blood lust of the disgraceful exhibition?

The world is still staggering beneath the load of crime and degeneracy that followed in the wake of the world war. Is that not enough?

No person in his sane senses need have any delusions about what a bull fight is. Vincente Blesco-Ibanez, that brilliant son of Spain, has written the iniquities of this misbegotten "sport" in letters of fire.

Doubters may learn to the full what a bull fight implies by reading "Blood and Sand."

Bad as the proposal to give a bull fight in the name of charity undoubtedly was, it was less offensive than the action of the New Orleans Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in keeping that name while advocating and upholding one of the historic forms of cruelty to animals.

Give a dog a bad name and kill him is an old and true saying, but it has taken modern times to develop a form of hypocrisy that expresses itself by the use of high sounding and misleading names while the organizations bearing those names do all the things which the names would lead the unwary to believe they were organized to oppose.

Let the S. P. C. A. of New Orleans change its policy on bull fighting or give up its name. It is poor charity that can exist only by virtue of funds raised through torture.

If New Orleans establishes this iniquity in the United States we can expect other cities to follow her abandoned lead.

The whole affair reeks and the fight is a stench in the nostril of decent people and a disgrace to Louisiana. If the mayor and city council of New Orleans are unwilling to stop such exhibitions it is to be hoped that the governor will in future do so, even if he has to use troops.

THE RIGHT WORD

"AFFECT" AND "EFFECT"

Clark A. Halloway of Chicago writes as follows: "In the office where I am employed, there has arisen a discussion as to the proper use of the words affect and effect. In an index to decisions of the railroad labor board the following expression appears: 'State laws, affect on assignment,' which I maintained is incorrect, effect being the proper word to use."

Interpolation: You are right in your foregoing conclusion. Effect is correct.

Mr. Halloway's letter continues: "The following four excerpts are correct: the effect of this law would be to establish . . .; but it would not affect rules; this law would affect the rules; but it would have no effect on rules in force."

Interpolation: The first effect is correct, as is affect in the second and third excerpts. Effect is correct in "but it would have no effect on rules in force."

Mr. Hallowaf's letter continues: "The following sentence is correct: 'The laws . . . affect their eligibility.'"

Interporation: You are right.

Mr. Halloway's letter continues: "My opponents are not willing to concede that the following sentence is correct: 'The laws of the state of Texas . . . have an effect on their assignment in that they affect their eligibility to many positions.'"

Interpolation: Your opponents are wrong. You are right.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

JAMES W. FOLEY

Let the dead past bury its dead.
Some poet said that.
We think it was Longfellow.
But that is not important.

It is not important that a certain man said a useful thing.

It is important that the thing was said.

* * *

It is not so important who discovers a great truth.

It is more important that the truth be discovered.

The greatest teachers and poets and philosophers and discoverers have been the least desirous of personal distinction or fame or duration.

They work for the aid of humanity.

Not for the glorification of self.

* * *

Who works for glorification of self will not discover the truth.

Will not proclaim the philosophy.

Will not write the poem.

Because the vision is restricted.

The individual stands in the way of the object to be discovered.

And it remains in shadow.

* * *

There is much of value in the lines as we set them down back there.

For many persons are always digging among the bones of the past.

Bringing up things to fright and fret themselves with.

* * *

There is in many persons regrettable disposition toward morbidity.

Reveling in past unhappiness.

A kind of mental tendency toward living in the darkness and the shadow.

Instead of getting out into the air and sunshine.

* * *

So Longfellow said that the dead past should bury its dead.

And he might have added that it is well to let the dead past remain buried.

For there is little use in digging up bones.

The bones of events long numbered with things accomplished.

Either for good or ill.

* * *

We may learn from the past.

Take profit from its lessons.

Find wisdom in its teachings.

But we cannot live in it without becoming stale and mouldy as a long abandoned tomb.

* * *

The gate of yesterday has closed.

Leave it shut.

The gate of today is open.

Let us enter through it.

And the gate of tomorrow offers promise.

Let us take hope from it.

* * *

Remorse serves purpose only as it leads to rehabilitation.

Regret is useless except as it may lead to reformation.

Morbidity is the stirring of dead bones for self pity's sake.

* * *

So it is not the dead past in which we are to live.

Not the shadowy future.

the poet says we are to act.

And all living is in action.

Songs of the Poets

Sing On, Blithe Bird—William Motherwell

I've plucked the berry from the bush, the brown nut from the tree,
But heart of happy little bird ne'er broken was by me.
I saw them in their curious nests, close couching, slyly peer
With their wild eyes, like glittering heads, to note if harm were near;
I passed them by, and blessed them all; I felt that it was good
To leave unmoved the creatures small whose home was in the wood.

And here, even now, above my head, a lusty rogue doth sing;
He pecks his swelling breast and neck, and trims his little wing.
He will not fly; he knows full well, while chirping on that spray,
I would not harm him for the world, or interrupt his lay.
Sing on, sing on, blithe bird! and fill my heart with summer gladness;
It has been aching many a day with measures full of sadness!

PERSPECTIVE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

EMERSON said that anything is beautiful if viewed in the right perspective.

Much difference of opinion is due to the fact that people view a certain thing from different moral distances.

The difference, for instance, between a young man's opinion of his marriage and his grandfather's opinion of it is that the young man is very close to it, and the grandfather forty years off.

You will find that two people rarely agree upon the apparent size of the moon. One will compare it to a saucer, another to a dinner plate, and another to a barrel head. These diversions of judgment lie not so much in the eye as in the mind. They cannot unmix their fancies, notions and preconceptions of how the moon ought to look from the picture of how the moon actually does look.

We make the same sort of error in judging ourselves. Dr. Holmes, for instance, said that there are many Johns. There are the John that John thinks he is, the John that John thinks others think he is, the John others think he is, and so on. And who shall say what John really is?

When you are close to me you are five feet high; when you are some hundred feet away, you are but one foot high; and at a very great distance you are but a speck; which is your real size? Why should you claim that your size close up is more actual than your size a mile away?

As a matter of fact, we are often more deceived in the relative importance of things by being too close than by being too far. When you look through a microscope at beauty's cheek it is far from handsome. Even a lovely girl, which is undoubtedly the loveliest object in creation, must be considered from just the right distance and angle.

The so-called "evidence of our senses" must be criticised. It is not the final evidence. For our brain concept is made up not only of the actual image brought to the brain by the eye, but our imagination mixes into it and also our preconceived notions of how the thing ought to look. And beside this, much depends upon the distance from it.

A very practical use of the law of mental perspective may be made in the instance of tragic occurrences. We think that such and such a thing that has befallen us is of tremendous import. It seems to crush all our hopes. Perhaps it may appear to render life not worth living.

But if we are able to retire to our chamber and close the door and think it over, and get ourselves into a state of mind where we will see the event as it is going to appear to us ten years from now, it may not loom so threateningly.

There is a homely saying that has much philosophy concealed in it: "It will make no difference a hundred years from now."

(Copyright, 1923, by Dr. Frank Crane)

Each of the newspaper men engaged in writing of Los Angeles and San Francisco, is making a bad job of his part of it.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

"MEDDLERS"

[Cleveland Plain Dealer]

Law-abiding Americans visiting other countries harmonize their conduct with the laws of those countries. They rightly demand the same consideration of Europeans visiting here. It is an unpleasant task which the federal government undertakes in seizing liquors aboard ships flying the flags of friendly nations, but there is no alternative for a government founded on law and the observance of law; it would be an odd contradiction indeed if the federal government after making such a law were to wink at its violation.

If the United States has gone too far at this point in combating what Lloyd George calls "probably the greatest curse of modern civilization" the proper remedy is to change the law, not ignore it. The government rightly demands obedience from every citizen; it cannot let down the bars to foreigners visiting American ports. If Europe does not understand this now but still believes American prohibition is merely a joke, Europe is in for an awakening.

Whatever "meddling" there is—to use an expression used by protesting English newspapers—is on the part of the liquor-carrying visitors, not on ours. They are meddling with American law. The federal government is merely enforcing that law.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The constitution which in a general way is highly respected in this country is in the English language. It has been much assailed of late, largely by residents unable to speak the language in question. There is scant reason for believing that the earnest persons making the attacks have a clear conception of what they are talking about.

HENRY JAMES

When an alien rants his hatred of all things American, and strives to stir up turmoil, the remedy in each case should be simple and soon applied. Were it to consist of taking the alien by the scruff of the neck and tossing him lightly across the Atlantic, it would be deemed fair and proper.

The present row kicked up by a class of undesirables, who really have no right to be in this country, calls attention again to the imperfections of the immigration laws. How do these ornery critters get through? There is a demand on the part of manufacturers, particularly of steel products, for cheap labor. Were they to get the cheap labor in abundance, nobody thinks for a moment that the price of the product would be reduced. On the contrary, the extra profits probably would appear in the form of dividends and disappear in the form of non-taxable bonds. So this particular phase of discussion lacks importance.

What immigration laws are for is to keep out the hordes of ignorance and turbulence, letting the honest, the industrious, and the potentially useful citizen get by. In this respect the immigration laws seem to have failed of accomplishing their purpose. Hence the populous soapbox and the use of dynamite as an argument.

Some correspondent says that $450,000,000 may be spent on Gatun lock, an important feature of the Panama canal. It is very easy for a correspondent to talk in large figures concerning money that does not belong to him.

The Panama canal, lock and all, cost far less than the sum mentioned. The canal has been performing a very useful service. If the service is to be extended, requiring a new lock, perhaps it would be cheaper to build another canal, permitting Panama to take care of the small fry of commerce, and the big bottoms to use the new passage.

Eddie Boyden of the San Francisco Chronicle, and Harry Carr of the Los Angeles Times have been writing parallel columns concerning the two cities, each taking the city in which he does not live.

The results so far have been lamentable. It is to be regretted that two newspaper men of ability should have perpetrated such piffle.

A boy of eleven years has confessed that he broke a switchlock on the Northern Pacific. The ensuing wreck resulted in four deaths, and much property damage. What should be done with such a boy? Here is a question for a Solomon.

Many morons are at large. It is not often that they are betrayed by an overt act, for generally they amble along on their level of stupidity, attracting small notice. Once this boy would have been considered vicious and a fool. Now he is a moron, and unfortunate.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SLEEPING OUT

Children look upon sleeping out as a wonderful treat, a thrilling experience. A little of their delight comes from the newness of it, more of it from a race-old habit.

Their remote ancestors slept most of their nights, with the earth for their beds and the sky for their roof. The wind might moan and the little people of the forest foregather about their resting places. It was all one of them. They slept on until the sun wakened them in the morning.

It is interesting to watch the children born and bred in houses ceiled and roofed and walled against the open shiver at the thought of sleeping with nothing between them and the weather, fearfully fascinated at the thought of such a tremendous adventure, gradually lose all dread and wrap themselves in a blanket and stretch out under the rough shelter of boughs and sleep like dormice. They have returned to primeval health.

It is not easy to secure the conditions for this though. Pine trees, with ten-inch carpets of sweet brown needles beneath them, are not in everybody's back yard, while children are there a plenty. And it is not convenient to transplant the old trees and needles and sweet mountain air. Still there is always the air, the sky and the earth. One can always do something.

City children cannot be sent out to sleep on the ground. It takes training for that. But there are the roofs of the houses that offer fine camping sites if some one would take the trouble to rig up a shelter, just a thickness of canvas for a roof lest it rain in the night. The air on the roofs is generally good and the stretch of sky is inspiring to eyes that have looked at it only between narrow hallways of masonry.

The children in the small towns and villages have a better chance to get this experience than the city dwellers. There is usually a big tree in the yard and the children can build a shelter near it with just a little help.

The tent that has all sides tied down to the pegs can scarcely be called an outdoor sleeping place. The tent is outdoors but the sleeper isn't. If possible at all there should be neither roof nor sides between the children and the outdoors, but that is rarely possible.

The moths and mosquitoes and spiders have the right of way in the night time, and they explore children's faces and flowers with calm impartiality.

That is not quite comfortable for the children so some sort of screen is needed. To put children out of doors and give them no protection from mosquitoes is cruel, but that can easily be fixed. Netting is cheap and handy.

It takes a little trouble to make the sleeping shelter just right, but it pays at the end of the season in additional weight and smoother nerves and quickened minds.

Children are sent to mountain camps to get this experience. You can come very close to it, and discount some camp advantages, right in your own home. Try it once, anyway.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Our neighbor town suffers from a sort of a spotted fever. A mental spotted fever. Or perhaps a moral one. It is an industrial town, which usually has a good market for its output. Working conditions are pretty good. Yet it suffers from strikes. Every time I go through there, it seems to me, one industry or another is out on strike. Any one knows that striking rarely does either the striker or the strikee any permanent good. Though they are no doubt necessary.

"Old Man Huntington's shop hasn't been on strike lately," I said on my last visit.

"Nor will be," said the man I addressed. "His men like the work."

I sort of piroueted around, for I can hang a hat on my bump of curiosity. Old man Huntington pays no more wages than are paid in any other shop in his line. His shop is well arranged, but I would hesitate to call it a model shop. He does lots of little things for his men, but so do other manufacturers and they have strikes. Old Man Huntington never has one. Out in the yard is a stone pillar on which is a bronze plate bearing some such inscription as this:

"We shall build good work here. At a profit if we can. At a loss if we must. But the work shall always be good."

The workmen erected that. Not Old Man Huntington. But they put it up because those words are always on the Old Man's lips. A scamped job would hurt him—hurt him physically. He takes a real pride in being able to say that a Huntington job is the best job that human hands can turn out.

That's why his men stay with him. They, too, have a pride in their work. They are as proud of their work as Huntington is. It is a fine thing to dare to be proud.

WESLEY BARRY IN PREVIEW TUESDAY AT THE T. D. & L.

How many think Wesley Barry would make a good printer's devil, if there is such a thing as a good one? Now all together——! Wait a minute. Wess says there are some other things to talk about, and that if his director hadn't thought he would make a good printer's devil he would have changed the title of the play.

So, all there is to say is that Wess is to appear in a preview of his latest picture, "The Printer's Devil," at the T., D. & L. Theater Tuesday, and what he doesn't achieve in this role is beyond the ken of the print shop.

"The Printer's Devil" is just the famous story of boy life by Julien Josephenson. And handsome Wess, when he makes his personal appearance from the T., D. & L. stage, will show 'em how it's done. No one knews better than Wess, the fun of a real live boy's picture, and those who have seen him in his other achievements fully realize this. The preview starts tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

H. A. Albright, manager of the T., D. & L., says: "Tell 'em to grab a bite, a hat, and a car, and h-u-r-r-y! Seats are going to be the scarcest things in town."

MAN OF SORROWS IS REV. EDMONDS' SUNDAY TOPIC

At the Glendale Presbyterian church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. W. E. Ermonds, spoke on "The Man of Sorrows," and chose Isaiah 53:3 as the text. Eighty times in the gospels the title "Son of Man" is applied to the Christ by Himself. It is a glorious name and full of hope for the human family, and is equivalent to having relationship with all men. Every man can find a response in His nature. God had had one Son without sin but never one without sorrow. Next to a Saviour man needs a comforter. Christ has come not only to bear our burdens but also to wipe our tears away.

There is only one brow this crown of thorns will fit. His sorrow was multiplied and grief was His familiar acquaintance. His was the sorrow of loneliness. He was in the midst of men, yet quite alone. He was a perpetual stranger in this world. His own bretehren, the religious leaders of His day, His own disciples failed to appreciate His teachings.

O, men and women, no man ever suffered such shame as came upon our blessed Lord. He was made a curse for sin. He who knew no sin was made sin for use. Alone He stood before Pilate. Alone He stood before Herod with none to protest. They mocked Him. They spat in His face. They crowned Him with thorns. He carried His cross alone. It is well that we often look upon Him in His loneliness and shame.

His was the sorrow of unrequieted love. The great sin against Christ is that His love and sacrifice are never recognized. He is despised and rejected of men. This is His sorrow. He has been at the door of your heart and you hid as it were your faces from Him.

His was a vicarious sorrow. Sin was responsible for all His suffering and sorrow. Had there been no sin He would never have known sadness or suffering, never felt pain or shed a tear. Why did this Christ man suffer? Why did He have sorrow? He was the world's only sinless one, yet the world's greatest sufferer. "He saved others, Himself He cannot save." Surely he hath borne my grief and carried my sorrows. He was bruised for my iniquities. He was wounded for my transgressions.

"When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of Glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride."

WHERE IS THE SEARCHLIGHT IN GLENDALE?

Where is the searchlight?

That question was on the lips of everyone who chanced to motor along the boulevards anywhere between the mountains and the sea last night.

Where was the searchlight? Who knows?

Was it in Glendale? It certainly seemed to be, for every time the stream of light from the Mount Lowe searchlight searched the country around, there was an answering gleam from somewhere.

That somewhere was either in Glendale or very near to it. There were flashes and gleams and twirls of light from this mysterious searchlight, and it is reported that motorists came from Montrose, Hollywood, and even from the beaches on investigation tours to satisfy that irresistible curiosity with which some folks are blessed.

Is the searchlight still in Glendale? How curious are you? Watch tonight and see!

Free Tickets to the Exposition Offered

That Becker's drug store at 114 North Brand is up to the minute when it undertakes to provide special inducements to patrons that are worth while is demonstrated by its announcement that with every 50-cent purchase it will give a 50-cent ticket to the Monroe Centennial Exposition now on in Exposition Park for July 19, which is "Glendale Day." A purchase of $1 will entitle the customer to two tickets.

A very fine program by Glendale talent has been provided for that day by a special Chamber of Commerce committee, headed by Ralph Brown, and it is expected to draw a heavy attendance, particularly of Glendalians. The offer should therefore make a strong appeal.

"CHRIST TEMPTED," IS REV. KRINGEL'S SUNDAY SUBJECT

Rev. Henry O. Kringel delivered a sermon at the services of the Concordia Lutheran congregation on the topic: "Christ Tempted of the Devil in the Wilderness," which was based on Matthew 4:1-11.

The speaker said in part: "This is a remarkable story. Christ tempted by the devil in the wilderness. At first glance we are at a loss what to make of it, and we fail to see why Christ should be tempted of the devil. But there is a cause and reason for everything Jesus did. And the reason why Jesus underwent this temptation in the wilderness was because He wanted to make amends for and set aright the failure of our first parents in Paradise. Are we not told that 'for this purpose the Son of God was manifested that He might destroy the works of the devil?' And what was the devil's first work? It was this: He tempted man to transgress God's commandment, to perform an act of obedience against the Divine Maker. And behold he was successful. Thus sin was brought into the world with all its evil consequences, misery, death, and eternal damnation. And it was not merely the individual that fell, it was the race that fell in Adam and Eve. Our divine Lord came to destroy the work of the devil. Scarcely had He been baptized by John the Baptist and entered upon his public ministry, when He encountered the 'old serpent' the devil in the wilderness, and subjected Himself to the deceiver's temptations. And lo! Jesus came out victorious. He conquered santa through His suffering and death, as our substitute, and thereby won back the battle which had been lost in Paradise.

"Jesus, however, does not only figure as our substitute in those temptations in the wilderness. He is our guide at the same time. By His example we may learn how to stand firm in all the temptations with which we are being beset.

"A Christian stands firm in temptations, with an implicit trust in God, and with a strict adherence to the Divine Word and with a stern refusal.

"Trust in Him as your Lord and Redeemer, who purchased and won you from all sins, from death and from the power of the devil, not with gold or silver, but with His holy precious blood and with His innocent suffering and death—and you will stand firm in the hour of temptation and not think of doing anything which is incompatible with conscience and His divine word."

CHRIST AND THE COMMON PEOPLE

Speaking on the subject of "Christ and the Common People," Dr. Funk declared at the First Lutheran church Sunday, that the most important thing in the world is a common man, imperfect though he may be. The good Lord seems to prefer common people, for He makes a great many of them. These are the men and women whom He uses to accomplish His high and holy purposes.

"Name over the benefactors of the world," he said, "men like Moses, Joseph, David, the twelve apostles, and the Lord of glory. Whence came they? Humanly speaking, from the common people; they came from the shepherds, the fisherfolk, and the carpenter's bench.

"I am awful glad I belong to the common crowd, there are so many more of us. I'd rather be where the common people are because I feel so much more comfortable among them. I prefer preaching to common people. We have heard of certain persons wanting to join a certain church because the aristocratic people, the high-toned folk, belong there. Well, if that is what you are looking for, sister, that is the proper place to go; but God have mercy on your poor soul if that is your chief concern. There is a good deal of show, sounding brass and tinkling symbols, in some of our churches. When the heavenly host sang 'Glory to God in the Highest' they did not advertise a lot of crack singers to draw a crowd, every angel sang. The dignity of the church should not be dragged down to the low level of an entertainment house. No, I don't think much of these operatic church choirs; and not a bit more of meteroric preachers and ministerial mountebanks."

MOROCCAN WAR LOSSES STIRS ALL OF SPAIN

[By Associated Press]

LONDON, July 16.—Spain is facing a grave crisis over the Moroccan situation, says a Reuter dispatch from Madrid. The problem appears every day to be farther from a solution. The situation is extremely delicate, and the abortive attempts which have been made to arrive at a bloodless settlement have only aggravated it.

The Moroccan campaign is unpopular in many quarters, the correspondent continues, and the vacillating policy which has been the outcome of many recent changes of government has so far produced no definite results. The territory lost in 1921 has never been entirely reconquered and the civil protectorate which was declared last February exists in little more than name, inasmuch as the Riff leader, Abdelkrim, is still in possession of a large portion of the zone and has been able to make his own terms with the Spanish in regard to the release of prisoners.

The government's policy was to reorganize the army and make a determined bid for the conquest of the zone, but the recurring demands in the press for the cessation of hostilities and the punishment of those responsible for former defeats forced it, for a time, to abandon the idea of further aggressive action. The army was, however, reorganized and newly equipped with tanks, aeroplanes and other modern instruments of war.

Following the appointment of a new civil governor of Morocco, a friendly Moorish chief, Dris Er Riffi, was in April appointed native governor of the Riff province. But Abdelkrim was still in undisputed authority over half of the province, and the government decided to withdraw a large number of the troops. This decision was never translated into action and, in spite of protests from the press, the Spanish troops continued to occupy advanced positions at considerable risk of attack. On May 31 a Spanish convoy was attacked by a large body of the enemy and sustained nearly 200 casualties.

It has for long been felt, the correspondent concludes, that the Moroccan problem ought to be settled without further bloodshed, and the news of this disaster cannot but give further impetus to the demand for a cessation of hostilities, and that without delay.

Duke Too Busy to Attend Unveilings

[By Associated Press]

LONDON, July 16.—Members of the British royal family have announced that they will be obliged to decline future invitations to unveil war memorials.

This announcement was made when a reply of the Duke of York to an invitation to unveil a war memorial was made public. The Duke said that he, in common with other members of the royal family, found it impossible to travel over the country, especially for these ceremonies, when he has so many other pressing and important demands on his time.

Members of the royal family have already unveiled more than three hundred war memorials which includes many national memorials, to which local ones are but supplementary.

Finds Saving in Cost Of Making Electricity

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The United States is becoming an increasingly heavier user of electricity, but despite the mounting power totals, the consumption of fuel to produce it is decreasing in proportion. Geological survey figures show that the consumption of coal for that purpose in 1922 was only 2.5 pounds a kilowatt hour, as compared with 3.2 pounds in 1919.

A total of 47,659,000,000 kilowatt hours was generated last year. Of this amount 36.1 per cent was generated by water power. New York leads the list of states in production, manufacturing 15.57 per cent of the total for the country. Other states in order are Pennsylvania, California, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Massachusetts and West Virginia.

The young wife was complaining to a friend. "My husband is so puritanical. He doesn't go in for any pleasures, dancing, cards, the theater——"

"Remember, my dear," said her confidante, "you took him for better or for worse." That's just it," was the reply. "It would be so much better if he were worse."

When 1850 meets 1923—when the frills of yesterday mix with the jazz of today—when the harmony of long ago clashes with the discords of our modern era—then what? The whole family will want to see this unusual comedy-melodrama—it's breezy, jazzy and brimful of pep!

L. A. FACTORIES LOOK FOR ACRES NEAR GLENDALE

Former City Manager T. W. Watson, Tells of San Fernando Road

While strides in Glendale's growth are noticeable in every angle of development, perhaps the most notable is her industrial expansion, with San Fernando road thrusting itself into the limelight as one of the most preferable locations in Southern California for manufacturing establishments.

Glendale offers all of the necessary attributes for industrial growth. Shipping possibilities, either by truck or by rail, are such that the greatest bulk of trade may readily be handled. San Fernando road is the highway from the valley and from Glendale, to the sea, via Los Angeles and Los Angeles harbor. Industrial sites in Los Angeles are comparatively scarce, and some districts near the factories are unsuited for healthful living for employes.

On the other hand, industries have almost as convenient an outlet for their products from the San Fernando road district in Glendale, with the added advantage of healthfulness for employes. San Fernando road is but a continuation of the newer industrial district of Los Angeles, and for this reason is already recognized as the logical frontage for manufacturing houses.

In fact, San Fernando road has for years carried such a bulk of traffic that the City Planning Commission of Los Angeles has found it imperative to develop plans for Riverside drive, which will skirt the Los Angeles river and serve to relieve some of the traffic that would ordinarily find its course along San Fernando road.

At a glance, this project can be seen as a distinct advantage in the further developing of the industrial section of Glendale. It will be readily seen that the territory between San Fernando road and Riverside drive is in a position to realize a wonderful period of development, which will mean the establishment of many more factories and industrial institutions and the eventual opening of connecting ways between San Fernando road and Riverside drive, with the building of bridges and the widening of such thoroughfares as now exist.

"While the project of extending West Broadway is yet in its infancy," to quote T. W. Watson, who owns 40 acres abutting on San Fernando road in the vicinity of Broadway, "it is fortunate that this property is in the hands of those who appreciate the value of this district and will be interested in doing all possible toward the extension of Broadway to 1700 feet west, to the westerly line of their property." There remains about 1000 feet between the westerly line of this property and the Los Angeles river, which belongs to the city of Los Angeles. In the due course of time, according to the rapidity of development, it is inevitable that Broadway will connect with Riverside drive, and perhaps extend further west, as the occasion and necessity arises.

Mr. Watson spoke of a San Francisco manufacturing concern which has been figuring on San Fernando road property.

"This company employs 200 people, and would call for two acres. If the full development of these forty acres would mean 100 people to the acre, one can readily see what an addition to the population of Glendale the locating of a few factories will mean," stated Mr. Watson.

THE CHILDREN

The little girl with pretty clothes,
The little boy with stone bruised toes,
The maid upon her way to school,
The lad beside the fishing pool,
The child of trouble and with care,
The world of childhood everywhere,
Take to thy heart, the lass and lad,
And love them well and make them glad.

Yes, love them well, for they are thine
The children are, and they are mine,
And theirs are hearts for you to bless,
And theirs the right to happiness.
And theirs are spirits to lift high,
And theirs are tears for you to dry,
To Him thou doest what will please
If thou wilt love the least of these.

So love them all, where they may be,
For all of them belong to thee,
To help, to love, to soothe, to bless,
To bring them hope and happiness.
To bring a smile to some sad face,
To make the world a better place
For them to live—this be the aim
Of every man who's worth the name.

If I should pass a child, nor seek
To dry the tear upon a cheek,
To soothe a sorrow it may know,
To bid it take my hand and go
To find some joy it well deserves,
Then I am not one well who serves,
And when my Master speaks my name,
Should hang my head in very shame.

HANDSOMEST COP IN CAPTIVITY

NAPA, Calif., July 16.—(United Press).—A man can't help it if he is good to look at, easy on the eyes, a natural "sheik," such as Ray Asedo, known as the "handsomest speed cop in California," is. As Ray's fame grows local motorists are beginning to wonder if there will be an epidemic of women getting "pinched" for speeding on his beat.

BEAUTIFUL HOME TO BE BUILT ON KENNETH ROAD

Dr. Alonzo E. Mack of Omaha to Settle in Glendale

Another beautiful home is being built on Kenneth road just beyond the Toll residence for Dr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Mack, who are now living at 814 South Maryland.

For a number of years they had been coming to California for vacations and finally the allure of the country became so strong that last September they left their home in Omaha, Neb., where they had lived for 26 years and came to the Golden state to remain permanently. Of course they established headquarters in Los Angeles while they toured the city and environs trying to determine where their home would be. A ride along Kenneth road decided them beyond question of a doubt and they are eagerly looking forward to the home they are to have there which will be made as beautiful as the situation demands.

The house will be of the English type with composition thatched roof with rolled edge and stucco exterior. It will be of one story divided into seven large rooms. It is on the north side of the thoroughfare and will therefore face the valley. The interior will be artistic and the home will have cost in the neighborhood of $16,000 when ready for occupancy. It was designed by the artist Donald McFarlane.

Dr. Mack for 16 years was professor of obstetrics in Creighton Medical College, Omaha. He has a Los Angeles office and plans to open one in Glendale in the near future, as he wishes to "grow up" with the city of his adoption. The home will be built by the General Construction company.

Many a man's so-called moral courage is laziness.
